[From Chamber's Journal.]

The Blind Harpist.

Not such a very long time ago—but when there were no railways, when steam-navigation was in its infancy, and the electric telegraph not even dreamed of—a journey to Cornwall was quite a formidable undertaking; while native inhabitants of that country regarded the more distant portion of the island population in the light of foreigners. Fluctuations were as rife then in mining concerns as they are known to be in these adventurous days—fortunes were made and fortunes were rous days-fortunes were made, and fortunes were lost; and when the latter reverse befell Mr. Traher, a great mining speculator, attended with many distressing circumstances, he had not strength of mind to bear up against calamity, but speedily sank beneath the blow, leaving three orphan children totally destitute. Harry, the eldest, a youth just about to leave so col, obtained, through the influence of friends, transplants, And everybody cheated.

And everybody cheated.

The many things that Adam miss here enumerated:

Adam ne'er knew what 'twas to be a boy, Influence of friends, an appointment in a mercandren totally destitute. Harry, the eldest, a youth just about to leave so ool, obtained, through the influence of friends, an appointment in a mercantile house in India, whither he at once repaired. His sisters were considered particularly in luck's way, when a distant relation, respectably settled in London, offered to receive the poor girls, and to retain one of them as nursery-governess in her own family, providing a similar situation for the other. It was a sad parting between the brothers and sisters; for India then seemed a vast deal further off than it appears now, and faint were the hopes they entertained of meeting again in this world. And, indeed, these three did never meetagain; for Mary, the eldest of the two girls, in process of time, became the wife of a thriving London merchant, and died while their only daughter was still a child. Ethel Traher, Harry's favorite sister, also became a wife; but her marriage displeased her relation, who pronounced her positive conviction, that so pretty wife; but her marriage displeased her relation, who pronounced her positive conviction, that so pretty acreature might have done far better. Mary—or pronounced her positive one far better. Mary—or a creature might have done far better. Mary—or Mrs. Danvers, as she ought to be called—more than joined in the displeasure occasioned by Ethel's matrimonial choice; and not only cherished anger and unforgiveness in her own breast, but instilled the same feelings into the mind of her husband, and even taught her child to look down on "the Mordannts." Letters from Harry were few and far Mordannts." Letters from Harry were few and far He never tripped it o'er the ball-room floor, Mordaunts." Letters from Harry were tow and far between; but he was prospering; though fortunes, in India, he said, were not so quickly made as they sometimes were in their own dear native Cornwall.

For some years, Mr. Mordaunt, Ethel's husband, who turned his talents to account by teaching drawing, contrived, by dint of unceasing industry, to support his delicate and ailing wife in comfort, if not affluence. Ethel also brought her husband, if not affluence. Ethel also brought her husband, was fully thirty years of age. whose sweet affectionate disposition endeared her o both parents' hearts, and made amends to her other for the loss of a sister's countenance and love. With deep emotion, however, Mrs. Mor-daunt read in the public prints the announcement daunt read in the public prints the announcement of this unforgiving sister's decease; she yearned to clasp the motherless girl, her niece, and Etty's cousin, to her bosom. But so decided had been the rebuffs of Mr. Danvers, that honest pride and self-respect would not permit one of the family to approach the rich man's door. Miss Danvers reigned supreme there, the spoiled child of luxury and indulgence—proud, arrogant, and unfeeling, but strikingly handsome in person, and agreeable in manner. She did not even know where the in manner. She did not even know where the Mordaunts were to be found—she made it a matter of conscience to cut all such disgraceful connecons, and the more particularly as they were resi-ent in the same city. saw the sunshine of this world through the haze of a sick-room. Yet had they much to be thankful for; and a contented, happy family they were.

They rented the upper part of a small house in a genteel street; and Mr. Mordaunt's pupils were principally in the vicinity, with the exception of some schools in the suburbs. His emolument was certain and regular; and although he had frequently complained of a singular weakness in his evelids, until he had unfolded to her his specified, until he had unfolded to her his had unfolded to her his specified, until he had unfolded to her his had been defined as a sick-room. All his leisure time was devoted to the improvement of Etty's docile mind. She learned everything readily save drawing-that she could not manage; and her father, halt in jest, half in earnest, shook his head, and called it a "deficiency of intellect:" and Etty herself, the gentlest and most humble-minded of human beings, iamented this "deficiency," because it vexed her dear father. But, as if to make amends for the want she deplored, nature had gifted Etty with a remarkable fine voice—thrilling, rich, and melancholy. A harp, which was her poor mother's only relic of better days, stood in one corner of their sitting-room; and not only had Etty learned to accompany her voice on this old harp very respectations. Many incorrect reports have been in circulation since Taurs iay last, in reference to the signing of the returns of the election for the Third Ward; some that they had been properly signed and returned to the Clerk's office, and others that they had not. Upon inquiry into the matter, we find the case to stand thus wm. Shelly, Esq., one of the Judges, and — Taylor, Esq., one of the Clerk's declined to sign the returns upon two points, and up to Sa urday evening last had not changed their determination. They assign as reasons for this course—first, that the Judges were not properly sworn, no one having been sworn by a magistrate and authorized to swear in the others, as is usual, but each having, unauthorized, sworn in the other; together with the fact, as they allege, of there having been found in the ballot-box, upon the count, some fifty ballots more than there were voters' names upon the poll-books. We are further informed that the returns, with the signatures of the remaining two Judges and one clerk, were sent to the Clerk of the Superior Court, who declined receiving them, upon the ground that they were not attested in the manner prescribed by law. What course will be pursued under these circumstances has not as yet transpired.

PARODI'S CONCERT.—It will be seen from the advertisements in our columns this morning, that M'lle Parodi will give her grand concert at Mozart Hall on next Wednesday evening, assisted by Mad. We clip the following notice of their performances from the Boston Journal:

of their performances from the Boston Journal:

"Until last evening I did not believe the human voice capable of rroducing such angelic strains as fell from her lips. Each note seemed the soul of music, and produced a thrill of pleasure in all who heard them. The beauty and grace of her person, the extreme intelligence of her eyes, varying with every varying emotion, would render an artist of far less power than she is acknowledged to be, extremely interesting. But though sho knows how to employ these to the greatest advantage, she by no means depends on them for success. Art heightened by genius, and genius assisted in the highest degree by art, are apparent in every effort she makes. The bewitching Amalia Pattidelighted us more than ever. It was difficult to tell whose pleasure was the greatest—the lady's or that of the audience. A silver bell could not ring clearer than did some of the notes of this lady. She sings with a great deal of soul, fully abandoned to the effort, and yet it seemed without effort, for there was a perfect ease and repose in every part. She certainly is one of the sweetest ballad singers that ever visited our city. In short, her as follows: singers that ever visited our city. In short, her mellifluous voice is a sweet, spontaneous musical outpouring of sound that must be dictated by Na-ture herself. Strakosche surpassed himself, were that possible."

The Roman Catholics of Bath, Maine, attempt ed on Sunday last to lay the corner-stone of a new church of their denomination, but were pre-vented by a rowdy mob, who pulled down their cross, insulted them by foul language, hoisted a flag, &c., and attempted to displace their corner-stone; but this was prevented by officers of the peace. Extraordinary Accident-Train Blown off the Track. On Tuesday morning, about half-past 6 o'clock, the express train from Albany met, in the vicinity of Chatham Four Corners, with one of the most extraordinary disasters it has ever been our lot to Commonwealth vs. Henry G. Redout, on charge

It appears that the train had left Albany at Mr. J. Walter stated that on the sixth of November, Henry G. Redout entered his room, and asked for him, stating he had been directed by Doctor Rogers to call on witness, if he wished to learn all about Spiritualism. Witness supposed at first that the Doctor had sent the man to him to quiz him, and intimated his suspicions to the man, but he was afterwards satisfied he was mistaken.

thought he had offended witness, and said he did not intend to insult him, and I will leave. His middness and manner touched the feelings of the witness, and he would not let him go. He said he had been commissioned to do good, and therefore could not commit an error, and that he could convince any body that he not only possessed the power to accomplish what he proposed, but that no other man on earth was or could be endowed with the same power, because the gift was from God, and God was perfect. Witness said that, judging from the strange manner in which the man acted, together with his strange notions and conversations, he believed he was deranged on that new but cared for. Witness expected to see harsh treatment, but instead of a cloud of anger passing over her brow, a smile of sunlight played over her countenance, and she said you ought not to treat your poor old aunt so badly. He also saw a Miss Duvall there, who he took to be a visitor, as he found her in the parlor, embroidering. He found her one of the most intelligent and highly cultivated ladies he ever met with Mr. King, seeing my mistake, took me to one side, and told me she was a lunatic on the subject of Mr. and Mrs. Coburn, her son and his wife slightly. COMMERCE OF THE UNITED STATES.—The Secretary of the Treasury has completed the statistics of Commerce and Navigation for the fiscal ties of Commerce and Navigation for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1855, and we find a summary of it in the Journal of Commerce, which remarks that "a careful study of it will afford the best possible relief for the foolish panic which has prevailed in some parts of our country during the last few weeks." The foreign imports at all the ports of the United States (including, of course, California and Oregon) for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1855, were $261,382,960, against $305,780,253 forma and Oregon) for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1855, were $261,382,960, against $305,780,253 for the preceding year, showing a decline of $44,-397,293. The total exports from the United States to foreign ports for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1855, were $285,156,845, against $268,141,064 for the preceding year, showing a decline of only $3,084,218. It will be seen from this that while for the year 1854, the imports exceeded the exports $27,539,189—for the last year the exports exceeded the imports $13,773,$86.

The tables show an increase during the last year of $10,106,864 in the imports of free goods, but a failing off of $51,253,807 in dutiable merchandise and $3,246,350 in specie. The course of the import trade for the last three years is worthy of port trade for the last three years is worthy of especial notice. The year ending June 30, 1853, shows an increase over the provious year of $55, 033,305; and the year 1854 showed an increase over 1853 of $37,801,606; making a gain of $92,834,911 in two years. For the last year the decline, as already stated, is $44,387,293, which brings the imports below the total for the year a853—4.

While the imports for last year have fallen below even the total for 1852—3, the exports are nearly forty-five millions greater than for that year. Of the total exports of specie for the year, $53, 957,418 were of domestic-production, and $2,289, merated total.

The falling off in the imports of cotton is very great and extends to all descriptions of goods. The difficulty of seperating printed cottons from other piece goods, has induced a change in the official

so follows:

On the Place du Trone we passed a regiment of soldiers coming in from Vincennes. Many of them were beardless, soft-cheeked boys, learning their first steps to Sevastopol. It is sad to see those peasant youth, wearing still the ruddy brown brought from their quiet homes, fitted into soldier's gear, with almost a certain doom in the present war. The conscription is well called the peasants' nightmare. The rich may buy off their sons, but the poor have no hope but in the Virgin. But all this merits treatment from a more graphic pen than that I hold. We often meet new recruits in Paris, coming from the railway stations—so green and awkward in their uniforms, often walking tender-footed in their soldier shoes, some looking up grand in their little dignity of gun and knap-sack, while others seem to think of something left behind. One of those younglings came here a little while ago to bid his sister, one of the servants, adieu. He was off for the war, all flushed with pride. Now Victorine is in mourning for him. I shall never forget how she tore off her cap and held her face in her hands when she heard the sad news.

SALE OF THE HIPPOROME STOCK.—The whole of the paraphanalia of the old hippodrome, consisting of wild animals, camels, ostriches, horses, wagons, trappings, &c., were disposing of at auction in New York on Monday. It was estensibly the property of the celebrated showman, S. B. Howes, although it is said that Barnum owned considerable of the stock. Howes has been the most successful manager in the country, not even excepting Barnum himself, and at this time he ranks among the most wealthy men in New York. It seems that he has at last accumulated sufficient of the yellow dross to render him content, and he retires from the field to private life. The famous white Polar bear, the only one we believe in the country, was purchased by Mr. E. M. Shields, of this city, for $450. Its estimated worth with the cage, is $1,300. The Messrs. Mabies purchased severat of the elephants, among them the celebrated "Order of the elephants, among them the celebrated "Order

Why Females Suffer in Health.

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S Private Medical Companion,

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU, PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMES One Hundreth Edition (500,000) 18mo., pp. 250 A standard work of established reputation, found class ed in the catalogues of the great Trade Sales of New York, Philadelphia, and other cities, and sold by the principal booksellers in the United States. Every woman can here discover, by comparing her own symptoms with those described, the nature, character, and cause of her complaint, and be spared much anxiety and suffering, as well as the unpleasantness of making known to, or making inquiry of, a physician in respect to the numberless ailments to which she is sub-ject. The wife about becoming a mother has often need of instruction and advice in respect to her situa-ion, which she will here find. This book tells her what is the matter, and tells her what to do for it, in simple but chaste words, and such as she can understand.

Those suffering from obstructions or irregularities p culiar to the female system, or from prolapsus uteri (fall-ing of the womb,) or from finor albus, will each find in its pages the means of prevention, amelioration, and arily, might be saved to every husband, if the simplest aws appertaining to the marriage state were better understood. That they are better understood is traceable to that natural and almost commendable sensitiveness that will rather suffer than consult or converse with even a medical man in respect to complaints peculiar to

DR. A. M. MAURICKAU-My Dear Sir. My wife has been perceptibly sinking for some three years or more, in consequence of great anguish and suffering some months before and during confinement; every successive one more and more debilitated and prostrated her, putting her life in imminent danger, and which was on the last occasion despaired of. I supposed that this state of things was inevitable, and resigned myself to meet the worst. I heard your book highly spoken of, as containing some matters reaching my case. On its receipt and perusal I cannot express to you the relief it afforded my distressed mind, and the joy its pages imparted to my wife, on learning that the great discovery of M. M. Desomeaux provided a remedy. It opened a prospect to me which I little conceived was possible. But for this, ere another year would have passed over my head, in all human probability my wife would have been in her grave and my children left motherless.

SIX PIANOS PER WEEK.

The great demand for these Pianos, from wholesale buyers, having induced the proprietors to largely increase their manufacturing force, they are enabled now to furnish all who are in went of instruments at the lowest wholesale or retail prices. Retail buyers are as sured that they can save an average of TEN per cent. by purchasing from the factory direct, or from any of our authorised agents, the prices being uniform throughout the West. The Pianos, as to quality, tone, and finish, are warranted equal to the best Eastern make; their Square Pianos, the only class of instruments manufactured by them, having just received the premium at the Pair of the Mechanies' Institute, when in competition with those of Chickering & Sons, of Boston, and Nunns & Clark, of New York.

The St. Louis Intelligencer, of the 15th, says: NAVIGATION.—We continue to report the Mississippi, this point, falling fast. Weather delightful. Six feet atter to Keokuk; thirty inches on the Lower Rapids; our feet and a half in the Illinois; nine feet to Carro—he Ohio continues to rise; Monday there were eight est water in the canal, and six feet on the falls. Cumerland river was rising rapidly on Monday, with nine set water on the shoals.

THE WENDAM.—In another column we publish the manifest of this steamer, sunk above Jefferson City.—It will be seen that her cargo was a large and valuable one. We learn from Mr. Turner, the clerk (to whom we return thanks for the copy of manifest), that the cargo is a total loss, excepting about 100 sacks wheat, 100 sacks dried fruit, and 50 dry hides. The accident occurred at four o'clock Saturday evening. The boat was going ahead with a full allowance of steam, and in the usual channel, when she struck a stump or snag, which tore the whole bottom out, and sunk her in less than a minute, in nine feet water. The passengers will be down on the Edinburr, which passed Washington at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. The Wenona was insured in this city for $10,000—not far from the full value. She has done a great deal of business, and was quite a favorite, and we are sorry to hear of her loss.

We clip the following from the Nashville Whig o THE RIVER —At the date of our last review we left the river rising, with seven feet water on Harpeth shoals. It continued to rise until Sunday evening, when there were ten or eleven feet in the shoals. On Monday the river commenced receding slowly, and up to last even-ing had fallen about three feet, leaving eight feet on the shoals.

From the Evening Edition. PITTSBURG, Nov. 16-M. There are 6 feet water in the channel, scant. Weather

November Term. Jefferson Circuit Court.

HON. W. F. BULLOCK, JUDGE. Zoon and wife, plaintiffs, vs. Bland, defendant.
Plaintiffs alleged that defendant was the owner of a house and lot on Water street, in Louisville—that he had suffered it to be and remain in a dilapidated condition, the wall cracked, and was ready to fall, and one of the walls did fall on plaintiff's wife and greatly injured her, to the plaintiff's dam-

By the Court-I am satisfied the answer is good. The defendant negatives completely any liability on his part. He parted with the possession of the premises for five years, and two years afterwards the walks were injured, and fell during the term. The ordinary use of the property did not tend to produce this result, and walls were strong and good when let. Let the depurpers to the answer be overhen let. Let the demurrer to the answer be over-

Henshaw, Ward & Co. vs. Bull & Co.
Plaintiffs instituted suit on a bill of exchange against Bull & Co., and Wm. T. Spurrier's Executor, as drawers, and averred that they sent notice to said Bull & Co., at Louisville, Ky., of the protest of said bill on the day they received the same, but they did not know whether said notice had been sent to them in due time or not; but they say that said Wm. T. Spurrier, after receiving said notice from plaintiffs, and under the belief that due notice had not been given, acknowledged his liabilities to plaintiffs, and under the belief that due notice had not been given, acknowledged his liabilities to plaintiffs for the amount thereof, and paid $125 thereon, and promised to pay the residue.

Spurrier's Executors filed a demurrer to the petition, and an answer denying the allegations, but being heard, the Court overruled the demurrer.

FOR THE PREVENTION AND CURE OF Sever and Ague, or Chill Fever; Dumb Ague, and other Intermittent and Remittent Fevers; also, of Bilious Fevers, accompanied by Typhoid Symptoms; Typhoid Fever, Yellow Fever, Ship and Jail Fever, General Debility, Night Sweats, and all other forms of disease, to fall, and one of the walls did fall on plaintiff's wife and greatly injured her, to the plaintiff's damage $5,000.

Defendant answered and said, he had leased the said house and lot for five years, and gave up possession to the tenant; that, at the time he leased, the house was in good repair—strong, and well-built, and not likely to fall; that the lease was in full force when the wall fell; that the tenant cover manted to repair; that a freshet and storm injured the wall during the term of the lease, and that he was not liable, &c.

Plaintiff demurred to the answer, and contended that defendant was, as owner of the fee, bound to repair—that he could not shift upon his tenants, or any one else, the responsibility he was under to the public to keep his premises in repair, especially as to so substantial a part of them as the house on said lot.

Defendant insisted that his liability to repair the premises ceased when he leased and gave up possession; that, as owner of the fee, he was not liable for the tenant's negligence or wrongful acts; that he had no right to enter the premises to repair, and if he had entered, he would have been liable to an action of trespass; that there was no case in the books that made the landiord liable for the acts of the tenant during the lease, if the premises were in good repair at the time of leasing, and cited 4 Tenn. Reports, 31s; Taylor on Landlords and Tenants, 95; H. Blacks, 350; 4 Taunt, 649.

By the Court—I am satisfied the answer is good. The defendant negatives completely any liability till mismally check the ague in persons who have increment to the premises were in good repair at the time of lease in the books that made the leaflord liable for the defendant was not liable for the defendance of the fee, bound to repair, and if he had entered, he would have been liable to an action of trespass; that there was no case in the books that made the landiord liable for the defendance of the fee, bound to repair at the time of lease is a possible proposed to the tenant during necessary.

In its operation upon the poison in the system, it will immediately relieve all the distressing symptoms of bilious or ague diseases, and when the disease is cured, it will entirely prevent the accession of GENERAL DEBILITY AND NIGHT SWEATS, Which so often follow the administration of other medicines. The patient at once begins to recover appetite and strength, and continues to improve until restored to perfect health.

By its use, Fever and Ague may be banished from every family and class in the community; farmers, mechanics, and all laboring people may be using this article as a PREVENTIVE.

PREVENTIVE.

WORTHY OF PUBLIC CONFIDENCE.

BECAUSE OF ITS
SINGULAR AND ENTIRE HARMLESSNESS,

and a copy of it is attached to every bottle:

New York, June 11. 1855.

"I have made a chemical examination of Rhodes, Fever and Ague Cure, or Antidote to Malaria, and have tested it for Arsenic, Mercury, Quinine, and Strychnine, but have not found a particle of either in it, nor have I found any substance in its composition that would prove injurious to the constitution.

"JAMES R. CHILTON, M. D., Chemist."

It is a stubborn feat, therefore, that this Remedy is It is a subborn fact, therefore, that this Remedy is destined not only to relieve the human family from malarious diseases, but to do an equally good work by preventing the taking of other medicines which do harm. The entire absence of any baneful ingredient makes this Remedy, not more valuable as a Cure, than it is as this Remedy, not more valuable as a Cure, than it is as a preventive. No class of disease is so easily managed as the one under consideration, if the medicine be taken in advance. This is owing to the diseases being produced by one and the same cause, and therefore all, both residents and travelers, should protect themselves by the timely use of this preventive, and not wait for the poison aiready lurking in their veins to develope itself in a violent attack. Take the Cure as a preventive, and so destroy the poison before it does harm.

Full directions and advice as to Diet and Habits of life prepared by a distinguished Physician long resident in a Billous climate now accompany each bottle. It will often be found necessary to precede this medicine by a mild cathartic or antibilious purgative. The very best thing for general use is a moderate dose of Castor Oil, the object of which is to cleanse the stomach and free the biliary passages. Remember that where this is necessary, or there is costiveness, it MUST BE TAKEN, or the operation of the antidote will be seriously obstructed.

ONLY CAUTION.

ONLY CAUTION. In certain specified cases, pour the contents of one or more bottles of the Cure into shallow vessels (dining piates), and place them in sleeping rooms; for the vapor rising from the medicine, and also the air wafted across, or circulated over the dregs of it, after the liquid is evaporated, will counteract and destroy, to a degree commensurate with its exposure, the miasmata of posson contained in the apartment. This mode of exhibiting the Cure should likewise be resorted to when yerr son contained in the apartment. This mode of exhibiting the Cure should likewise be resorted to when very young infants are exposed to malarious situations.

The bottles in which this medicine is put up have the AGUISH country. I have the greatest confidence in its success, and can reassure you of its happy effect upon me in entirely breaking up the chills and leaving me strong and healthy.

I like the statement on your wrappers that you will let the medicine stand on its own merits, and standing thus, I am most sanguine of its success.

I expect to travel over a large portion of our S' ate this spring, and I shall have abundant opportunity, recommend it verbally. Wherever I go I shall take great pleasure in thus testifying to its merits, and if you will instruct your agent to let me have a few Jottles, I will carry them with me to distribute for your benefit.

In haste, I remain, truly yours, and I will carry them with me to distribute for your benefit.

In haste, I remain, truly yours,
MILES J. FI ETCHER. HAD THE AGUE FOR TWELVE YEARS.!!!

Having been informed of the "dness of a poor, but Ague a month at a time for the last welve years, I supplied her grauticusty with Khodes' Fever and Ague the grauticusty with Khodes' Fever and Ague cure. She took in all four bottles, which completely has now elapsed, there is no reason to doubt the permanency of the cure.

I am also aware of many other case s in which it has been used, and have never known it v. fail.

PROVIDENCE, Ill., Aug. 9, 1855.

I might as well mention here that every bottle that I have heard of being sold has given good satisfaction. The agents that I have left medicine with say that itranks among the best of patent medicines, and that after its good qualities once become known there will be more of it sold than of any other article of medicine in the State.

Respectfully yours,

DEEPH SMITH.

with this Mr. Reddick sends you the money for three with this Mr. Respectfully yours, JAMES GAYLORD. LETTER FROM A POSTMASTER.

MAIWELL, Delaware co., O., Aug. 19, 1855.

Mr. J. A. RHODES—Dear Sir: Your medicine has met with the most favorable success in this neighborhood. I have about five bottles left. I gave it to them at first "if no cure no pay," although I was not authorized by you to do so; but I took the responsibility on myself. But not a bottle has come back, and as I am almost out of the article, I wish you would forward me one gross of bottles if you ace proper took so, and I will be punctual in payment. I inclose fifteen dollars on the medicine I have received, for which please send me are ceipt. Ship the Cureto me as soon as you can; there never has been as much Chills and Fever since I lived in the State as at present. Yours, &c.,

Class for gents every Monday and Wednesday evening, from 7 to 9 o'clock.

On account of objections from a great number of pupils heretofore, religious difficulties are removed by forming two classes.

J. P. L. thinks it unnecessary to mention all the Dances and Waltzes he will teach in his school. The great number of pupils he has taught in this city for the last ten years is the best recommendation he can offer. Notwithstanding all the Fancy Dances and Waltzes J. P. L. is acquainted with, he takes pleasure in stating that on his visit to the South he has met with his friend Pingally Dritsk, from the Opera of Paris, and when here the principal Dancer of Placide's Varieties.
Through his kindness J. P. L. has come in possession of the mostrecent Dances, viz:

WIG MANUFACTORY

NO. 85 FOURTH ST., BET. MAIN AND MARKET, The Oldest Stand in Louisville.

NRS. NICHOLAS INVITES THE RS. NICHOLAS INVITES THE attention of her customers and others to her new by invented VENTILATING DIAMOND WIGS. These Wigs were invented by Richard Beck, of London, and made by one of the gentlemen in my establishment, who took the highest premium for the best Wigs on exhibition at the Industrial Exhibition, London, in 1854. They are warnted not to shrink; (those who have worn Wigs know that the greatest comfort in a Wig is in one that will not shrink at ALL;) besides they are so close a re semblance to nature as to defy detection. And to enable gentlemen to see the effect, a large assortment is kept on hand for inspection, any of which, if approved of save the purchaser both time and trouble, as these elegant specimens of Wigs cannot be found elsewhere. Also, a splendid assortment of Ladies' Wigs, Half Wigs, Braids, and Curls, always on hand and made to order at the shortest notice. Brushes, Pertumery, Gloves, and a general assortment of Fancy Goods of the very latest importations.

P. B. Ladies will please remember that they can have their hair dressed at their own residences.
